

About EMAGE Group

EMAGE Group is a digital imaging service provider that focuses on and has a high level of expertise in the areas of professional digital photography and internet application design and development.

EMAGE has evolved from its initial establishment as Steve Ababio Photography & Imaging, based in New York and Atlanta in the United States to the current range of services offered both in the US and in Ghana. We saw the need to provide the sort of service we do in Ghana after much research and market testing. We found a distinct dearth of consistent high-quality digital imaging service in terms of delivery, product range and responsive, deadline-driven customer service.

Our unique selling proposition is the extreme quality of our service. Our photographers are world class and have produced stellar work in Europe, the US and Africa for a galaxy of local and international high-profile clients. Our photographic prints and coffee table wedding album books are produced in the United States to exacting standards in order to ensure consistently high quality with each project we undertake.

We are not your bargain basement provider, we do not offer cheap or shoddy service. Quality the world over comes at a premium - you invariably get what you pay for. What we do guarantee is your total delight and satisfaction, an excellent return on your investment and serious value for money that will transcend the vagaries of time and technology.

Wedding Photography Style:

Our style is generally photojournalistic for weddings and begins with coverage of the bridal preparation – accessories, make up, dress-up and departure for venue. We get into position to cover the groom and guests waiting, the arrival of the bride, the procession, ceremony, recession and reception. We effectively record your special day as it unfolds for posterity, from beginning to end, just the way it happens.

Payment Terms:

While we acknowledge that this is not always possible, bookings for service should ideally be made at least 4 months prior to the event. This allows us to positively quarantine your date, meet with you to help plan your special day and work out or anticipate any challenges that might arise. It helps also to ease the payment process by spreading it over time.

Our payment terms for weddings are: 10% of the preferred package price serves as the deposit that guarantees your booking. A 30% payment comes due 90 days to your wedding day, and another 30% comes due 60 days to the wedding. 20% becomes payable 30 days to the wedding and your final payment of 10% is due 7 days to the wedding.

Simply put, your booking is only guaranteed by our receipt of your deposit, and service is guaranteed by our receipt of full payment one week to the event. Because once your booking is confirmed we turn down all other assignments for that day, we are regretfully unable to offer any refunds for service bookings. Your contract will contain very detailed terms of service, please read it carefully and be sure to raise any questions and concerns you might have before you sign it.
